

How to Turn an Outdated Transport Company Website into a Modern Business Tool

TempTrans case study: how business, market and customer research helped simplify the website, focus it on the core service and rebuild it around real customer needs

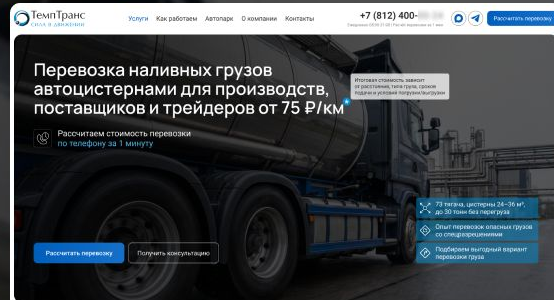

Ilya Kosik

Web development and marketing for businesses
6 years of hands-on experience · B2B and complex products

BEFORE

AFTER

Более 20 лет работаем с разными категориями наливных грузов

Для каждой категории груза подбираем подходящую автоцистерну, учитываем требования к перевозке, документам, погрузке и выгрузке

Опасные грузы | Неопасные грузы | Лiquefied gases

Перевозим химические наливные грузы автоцистернами

Химические наливные грузы требуют точного понимания свойств продукции для подбора транспорта. Мы учитываем характеристики груза, требования к цистерне, спецификацию и документам, чтобы перевозка соответствовала требованиям груза и площадки.

При организации рейса учитываем:

- Свойства химического груза
- Совместимость автоцистерн
- Сложность для перевозки
- Устойчивость к коррозии
- Документы для перевозки

Рассчитать перевозку

Помогаем избежать простоев, ошибок с цистерной и проблем с документами

Подбираем выгодный вариант перевозки

Если есть известность по срокам, условиям перевозки или цистерне, подбираем более выгодный вариант рейса

Согласование погрузки, выгрузки и простоев

Заранее уточняем условия на площадке, режим работы и возможные простои, чтобы избежать простоев. Также мы предоставляем

Подбор цистерны под тип груза

Учитываем категорию груза, совместимость цистерны, объем, спецификацию и условия погрузки и выгрузки

Помогаем с пакетом документов

Берем на себя обработку документов до перевозки, помогаем с оформлением и завершением документов

Рассчет стоимости

Работаем с опасными

The Challenge TempTrans Came to Me With

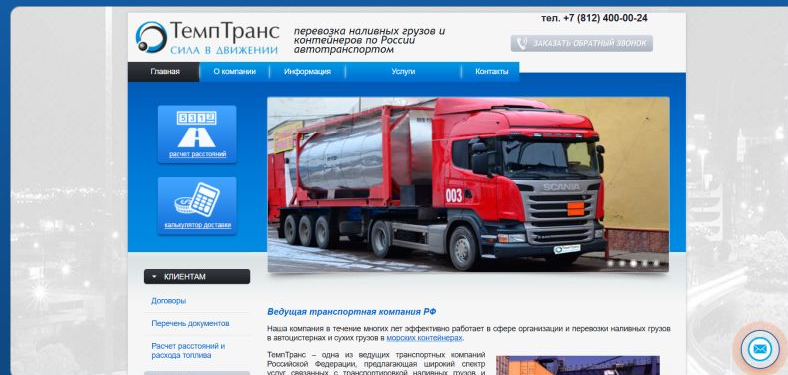

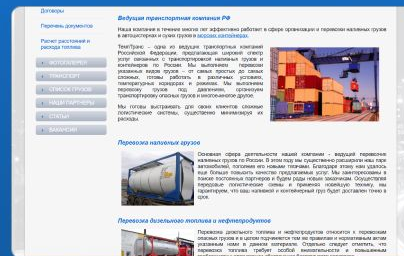

TempTrans transports bulk liquid cargoes, including hazardous and non-hazardous chemicals, by road tanker. The company website was built in 2012. Since then, the business has evolved and its priorities have changed, but the website was barely updated. It no longer reflected TempTrans's current operations or the company's level of expertise.

The website still contained outdated information, dated design and complex navigation, with no mobile version. Visitors could not quickly understand what the company does today or find the service they needed.

The task therefore went beyond a redesign: bring the website in line with TempTrans's current operations, rebuild its structure and prepare it for future advertising campaigns.

OUTDATED WEBSITE VERSION

Before Starting Work on the Website, I Built an Up-to-Date Picture of TempTrans

1

Discussed the Project with the Company Director

Clarified the goals for the website update, current service areas and expectations for the new website. One specific objective was to prepare it for future paid advertising.

2

Reviewed the Old Website and Gathered Data

Compared the information on the old website with TempTrans's current operations and requested missing data on service areas, cargo types, fleet, inquiries, documents and lead times.

3

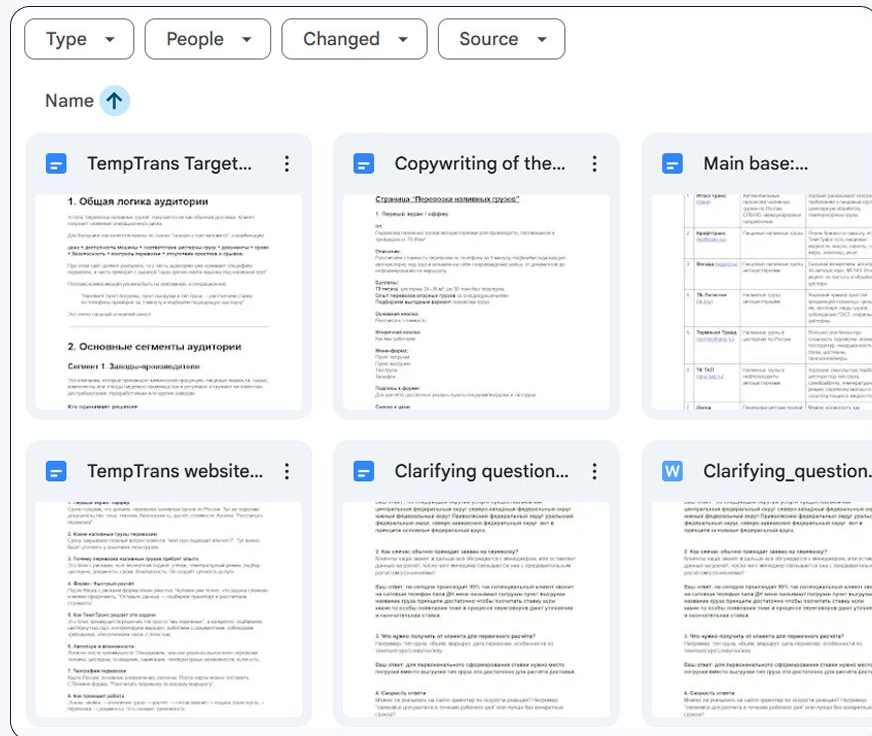

Reviewed the Market and Competitor Websites

Reviewed 15 websites of bulk liquid carriers to identify strong market practices and gaps where TempTrans could be clearer and more convincing.

4

Analyzed the Target Audience and Its Needs

Analyzed key customer segments, their needs and criteria for selecting a carrier to identify the messages, arguments and questions the website needed to address.

Research Helped Shape the New Website Around Customer Needs

Discussions with the company director, market research and target audience analysis helped identify what customers need to see before contacting TempTrans. These insights shaped the key headlines, visual emphasis and structure of the new website.

What Customers Want to Know

How TempTrans Answers These Questions

- | | |
|--|--|
| 1. How do you reduce transport risks? | We help prevent downtime, tanker selection errors and document issues. |
| 2. Do you have experience with my type of cargo? | Over 20 years of experience transporting different categories of bulk liquid cargo. |
| 3. Can you select the right equipment for my requirements? | An in-house fleet for different volumes and types of bulk liquid cargo. |
| 4. Do you cover my route? | Bulk liquid transport across key routes in Russia, with a route map on the website |
| 5. How do you organize the transport? | We manage bulk liquid transport from selecting the right tanker to completing the paperwork. |
| 6. Does TempTrans understand my needs? | TempTrans is a partner for bulk liquid transport when deadlines, documentation and control matter. |

We Updated TempTrans's Visuals Without a New Photo Shoot

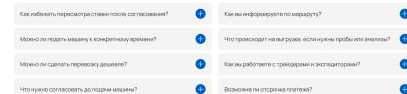

TempTrans had no recent photos of its fleet or daily operations, and arranging a professional photo shoot quickly was not possible. I used AI to create realistic, branded visuals that show the service and equipment while supporting the new website's visual style.

From the first screen, visitors can see that TempTrans understands their needs, learn how the company can help and find clear reasons to trust it with their cargo.

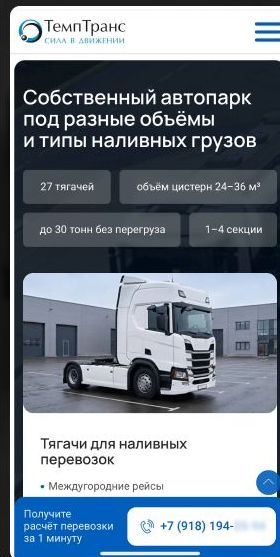

При организации рейса учитываем:

How We Made Calling Easy from Every Page of the Mobile Version

Most inquiries to TempTrans come by phone. That is why every page of the mobile version has a call button fixed at the bottom, with the phone number and the message "Get a Transport Quote in One Minute." Customers can review the information they need and call right away.

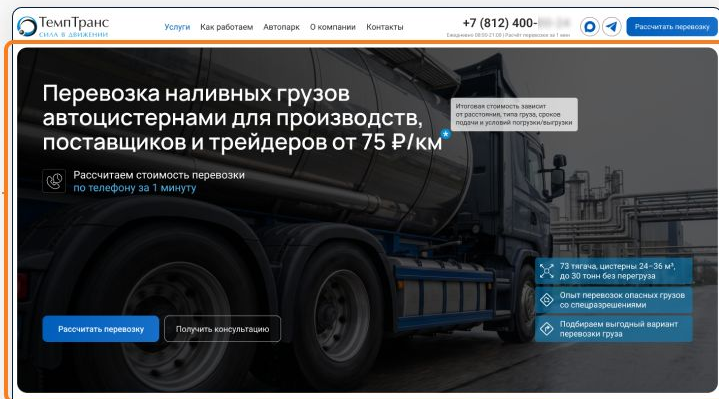

TempTrans Received More Than an Updated Website: A Modern Business Tool for Working with Customers

Website Built
in 13 Days

A Website Structure Built Around the Core Service

The first screen immediately explains the service, who it is for, how pricing works, and the company's experience and technical capabilities. The rest of the website presents TempTrans's approach and advantages in bulk liquid transport.

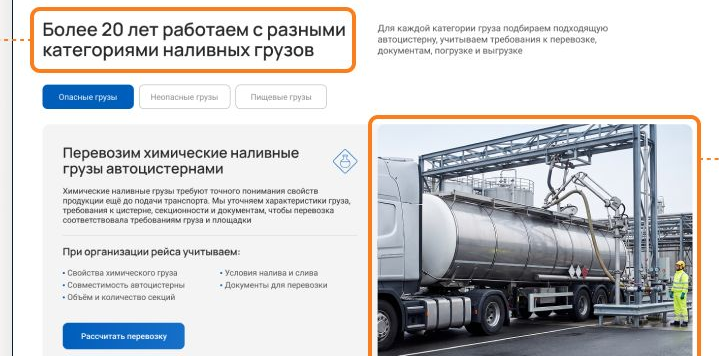

Clear Website Logic and a Fast Path to a Call

The structure takes visitors from first learning about the service to information that demonstrates the company's expertise. In the mobile version, a call button with the phone number stays fixed on every page, so visitors can call TempTrans as soon as they have the information they need.

Specific Messages Instead of Generic Claims

Headlines, text and visual emphasis are based on the current needs, tasks, risks and selection criteria identified during research.

A Distinctive Visual Style for the Service

The website uses unique AI-generated branded photos and videos to show the equipment and daily operations without stock images or the cost of an urgent photo shoot.

How I Can Help Your Company

Ilya Kosik

Web development and marketing for businesses
6 years of hands-on experience · B2B and complex products

I build modern websites for businesses that help companies clearly present their services and strengths and help turn website visitors into customers.

I dive deep into each project: I study the service, customers and business processes to find the right messages and build the website around real customer needs.

I add interactive features, realistic AI-generated photos and videos to show the product clearly and avoid relying on lengthy photo shoots or stock assets.

Websites

// 1

Corporate Websites and Landing Pages

I create websites with clear structures, strong messaging and modern design, helping companies present their services, experience and strengths to future customers.

Automation

// 2

Automation and Custom Solutions

I build tools around a company's processes: CRM implementation, calculators, client portals, internal services and tracking systems.

AI Visuals

// 3

AI-Generated Photos and Videos

I create realistic photos and videos in the company's visual style for websites and advertising, helping show products or processes without additional photo shoots or generic stock images.

Thank You for Your Time!

Let's Discuss Your Company's Needs!

Please contact me in whichever way is most convenient for you. We can briefly discuss your current needs, priorities and what matters most to your company right now. Based on that, we can choose the best way to work together.

Ilya Kosik

Web development and marketing for businesses
6 years of hands-on experience · B2B and complex products

WhatsApp

Telegram: @ilyamontt

Instagram: @ilya_kosssik

